

'Peanut'

First Sighted: 12/07/2007

Years seen: 2007-2015, 2017

Where: Faxaflói

Interesting Information: Peanut was one of the first whales to join our catalogue and has been seen every single year in the bay except for in 2016. Peanut is was also our most frequently spotted whale, and in some years has been spotted on 24 different days throughout the summer season.

Reason for name: Peanut was named after the peanut looking like cut on the tip of its dorsal fin.

‘Humpie’

First Sighted: 11/07/2011

Years seen: 2011-2018

Where: Faxaflói

Interesting Information: One of our most recognisable whales due to the large cut off section of the dorsal fin. Humpie is a bit cautious around the boats, but does enjoy surfacing around the boats allowing all our passengers a good look at it.

Reason for name: Named due to the hump like dorsal fin, which may have been cause due to colliding with a boats propellers.

'Tap'

First Sighted: 07/07/2007

Years seen: 2007, 2010-12, 2014-18

Where: Faxaflói

Interesting Information: Tap is one of our most regularly sighted whales, who is rather curious around the boats. Seen usually by himself but also occasionally with another individual called flickr.

Reason for name: Tap was named due to the cut on its dorsal fin, which looks like an old style tap.

'Shark'

First Sighted: 07/08/2007

Years seen: 2007-08, 2010, 2014-18

Where: Faxaflói

Interesting Information: Shark is one of our coolest minke whales and loves nothing more than coming to check us out. A very curious individual who has been seen on many occasions in all parts of the bay.

Reason for name: Named due to the bite like marks on the dorsal fin.

'Midi'

First Sighted: 19/04/2008

Years seen: 2008 - 2016

Where: Faxaflói

Interesting Information: Midi is usually one of the first of our celebrity whales to arrive. Midi has even saved us on some tours, being the only whale seen and doing some awesome surface feeding behaviours too keep our passengers happy.

Reason for name: Midi means 'noon' in French.
